

Dr. Thompson Will Speak to Class of '49 At Baccalaureate

"Reaching Through the Years" is the title of the Baccalaureate sermon to be delivered by Dr. R. Franklin Thompson at 3 p.m. Sunday, in the Morris Dailey auditorium. Dr. Thompson, president of the College of Puget Sound, will make a special trip to San Jose to address this year's graduation class.

Dr. Thompson became president

of College of Puget Sound in 1942. Holder of five college degrees, the visiting educator has studied in Europe as well as in this country. He began his career in higher education with the acquisition of an AB degree at Nebraska Wesleyan university in 1930.

The educator then attended Drew University, procuring his AM, BD, and PhD degrees in 1931, 1934, and 1936, respectively. He returned to Nebraska Wesleyan university to acquire an LLD degree in 1947.

In addition to these studies, the versatile college president attended Mansfield college as a Delaplaine-McDaniel fellow. Under the auspices of this program, he also matriculated at Oxford, at the University of Basel, and at the University of Zurich.

The speaker from Tacoma was associate professor of classics at Willamette university from 1937 to 1942. At the same school, he was Dean of Freshmen for three years and vice president during 1941 and 1942.

Pick Up Caps, Gowns

Seniors and faculty have their last chance today to pick up caps and gowns for Baccalaureate ceremonies. No gowns will be handed out Saturday.

They are available at the Spartan shop.

Miss California Accepts DSG Bid

Curvaceous Miss Jane Ann Pedersen, Miss California for 1949, has graciously accepted Delta Sigma Gamma's invitation to reign as "Sweetheart of the Year" at their annual "Summertime Sweetheart" dance Thursday night at the Los Gatos History club.

Bruce Bondelie, chairman for the dance and long-time friend of Miss Pedersen, is the man responsible for San Jose State's stolen march on other California colleges and universities.

He said there is also a possibility that Jane, as he affectionately calls her, may come to San Jose State college next fall.

"The dance is given as an annual going-away affair for graduating DSG's, and guests of the fraternity," Bondelie said.

Featured in Magazines

Jane's face should be familiar to everyone, she was on Life magazine's cover last August. The cover showed Jane running along the beach leading a deer.

National Geographic magazine readers will also remember Jane's face and figure, as will anyone who attended the National Intercollegiate rodeo last month at the Cow Palace in San Francisco, where Jane was Queen.

peared in local newspapers, following her victory at Santa Cruz over 20 other contestants in the annual Beauty Pageant. There, she was officially recognized as the best California has to offer in the way of feminine personality, charm, figure, and talent.

Atlantic City Bound

That day some 25,000 spectators saw Lt. Gov. Goodwin Knight place a crown of flowers on Jane's blond locks, and on her shoulders the Golden State's hope of bringing home Miss America honors from Atlantic City next September.

Pretty Miss Pedersen is a deceiving 17; she was graduated from Santa Rosa High school just last night. For the record, she tickles the scales at a neat 123 pounds. Standing 5 ft. 6 in., she measures a perfect 36 in the bust and hips, and owns a 24-in. waist.

Cannery Job Cuts Hurt Employment For Part-Timers

The employment situation for San Jose State college students in the San Jose area is not as good as it was last year at this time, Mrs. Florence Kellenberger, in charge of Part-time employment for men, said yesterday.

One reason for this condition is that the canneries here are reducing their production quota 25-50 per cent for the season. Many canneries have a surplus on hand, but they will employ additional help, Mrs. Kellenberger commented.

Firms will give special consideration to people employed by them in the past. New help will be hired as needed.

A few jobs on file now ask for students to work at various summer resorts. Students interested in summer employment should check the part-time employment desk in the Dean of Men's office.

BERKELEY, Calif., June 16 (UP)—A committee of three University of California faculty members today worked on a loyalty oath which would be acceptable to the academic senate.

Senior Ball Bid Sale Reopens; Red Room Added to Gold Room

Ticket sale was re-opened today for tomorrow night's Senior Ball because the Fairmont hotel added the Red room next to the Gold room to increase the dancing space, announced Frances Verdier, ball chairman, yesterday.

Seniors wishing to attend may obtain admittance cards before 5 p.m. today in the Graduate Manager's office. Only a few are available.

Miss Verdier urges those who have already signed for bids to pick them up in the Graduate Manager's office today before 5 o'clock. The office is not opened on Saturday. Bids or cards must be presented at the door, but none will be sold at the door.

Ray Hackett's orchestra will play for the Senior Ball, which will last from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The ball marks the beginning of Senior Week, seven days of picnics, sports, and graduation rehearsals. Monday seniors will hold their day at Old Hearst ranch in Pleasanton, to be followed by Senior Beach Day at Santa Cruz Wednesday and the Senior Banquet Thursday evening. The sheepskin comes on Friday during ceremonies in Spartan stadium.

Former Student Dies In Accident

Brian Smith, 18, former student at San Jose State college, was killed Wednesday evening when the car in which he and a companion were riding was hit by a car whose driver was trying to escape from police.

Smith's companion, Barney Luce, 20, also a former State student, was in serious condition in Palo Alto hospital.

The accident occurred at 10:30 p.m. at the intersection of Bay road and Bayshore highway.

Smith's car was struck by one driven by Gordon Spitzer, 20, Redwood City. Police said Spitzer's car sped through a stop sign in an effort to escape from a pursuing motorcycle policeman.

Smith and Luce are from Palo Alto.

'Drop Dead Week,' Urges Exam Board

"Dead Week should be abolished," was the contention made recently by Dr. Harrison Heath of the Examination committee.

"It has lost the usefulness it once had," he believes. "Probably not many instructors would give tests during that week even if it were permissible," he added.

Dr. Heath explained that there has been conflict between teachers who wish to give exams during Dead Week and students who want the week free of them. The matter will be discussed at the next meeting of the committee.

Schaeffer To Be Radio Show Guest

San Jose State college student body president Don Schaeffer will be the featured guest on Bob Custer's "Campus Caravan" show over radio station KLOK this Saturday at 4 o'clock.

Schaeffer is expected to reveal plans for the coming year concerning ASB activities in an interview with MC Custer.

The "Campus Caravan," a weekly affair running from 4 until 6 p.m., also features record dedications to Spartans, and sports news from Washington Square.

Two Daily Editions During Final Week

If exams close weary eyes searching for the Spartan Daily Tuesday, don't patronize your favorite oculist because there aren't any.

"Dead Week" has taken its heavy toll of beauty rest, but since the staff is "dead" too, there will be a shortage of newsprint in the final week.

Seriously though, the Spartan Daily may be had on both Monday and Wednesday, while no papers will appear either on Tuesday or Thursday.

Butts May Become Things of the Past

SACRAMENTO, June 16 (UP)—Smouldering cigarette butts would become a thing of the past under the terms of a resolution passed by the state assembly yesterday.

Designed to prevent forest fires, the resolution asked federal legislation to develop a self-extinguishing cigarette when laid in a flat position.

Senior Breakfast Sunday Heads Kappa Activity List

Graduating seniors of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority will be honored Sunday at the annual senior breakfast in the patio of the Hotel Sainte Claire. Beryl Calhoun is heading arrangements.

Kappa affairs last week-end included an outdoor dance, pledge-active picnic, a big and little sister dinner, and a pledge-active meeting.

Friday evening, an outdoor party was given at the home of Pamela Moore in the Santa Cruz mountains. Kappas and their guests danced to records on an outdoor dance floor. Dot Herrick, Lee Hayes, Irene Hansen and Bobbie Cabbage entertained with a skit. Marilyn Simmons was chairman.

Kappa pledges invited their big sisters to an outdoor dinner at the home of JoAnn Keeler on S. 12th street Monday night. Hostesses included Ruth Forster, Ruth Holthouse, Bobbie Cabbage, JoAnn Keeler and Lee Hayes. Big sisters entertained were Jo Rebstock, Joanne Thornley Rogers, Marge Goodie, Joyce Call, Rhea Goelzer and Peggy Etherton.

Following dinner, the big sisters escorted the pledges to a pledge-active meeting in the Student Union.

18 Spartan Spears Join Honor Group

Spartan Spears for the coming year were initiated Wednesday night at the home of President Marge Weaver.

Following the initiation, a short business meeting was held and refreshments were served. A skit was presented by four of the new Spears, Connie Carlson, Barbara Harvey, Gerry Lopes and Margaret Murphy.

Initiated were: Beth Calvin, Connie Carlson, Shirley Crandall, Sally Ferch, Marjorie Foster, Carolyn Hatley, Barbara Harvey, Betty Ishimatsu, JoAnn Keeler, Barbara Kinst.

Gerrie Lopes, Barbara Meeker, Joan Merritt, Margaret Murphy, Thea Pellegrini, Deloris Peterson, Marilyn Russell, Florence Taylor.

DU'S Hold Formal

More than sixty couples attended the Delta Upsilon annual Full Moon formal dinner-dance held last Saturday night at the Mt. Diablo country club.

Henry Gallagher and his orchestra furnished music for the evening.

Chairman for the event was Harold P. Christiansen.

Sojourners Dance, Dine at Rio Del Mar

Sojourners club held its last social function of the school year Saturday when members and their guests attended a dinner-dance held at Hotel Rio Del Mar.

Sam Harris, retiring president of the group, presented his gavel to Bill Rickard, new leader of the Sojourners. Life membership in the club was presented to Harris for his outstanding contributions to its activities.

Phi Upsilon Pis Select Officers

At a formal meeting at Germania hall Tuesday, members of Phi Upsilon Pi, honorary chemistry fraternity, elected the following officers for fall quarter:

Aldon Blood, grand analyst; Pete Kanalakakis, master analyst; Neil Farlow, secretary; George Berridge, treasurer; Stan Jepson, sergeant-at-arms; and Art Dale, historian.

Walt Ludewig was appointed as publicity director.

Mu Delta Pi Adds Four Affiliates

Mu Delta Pi, social and service fraternity, held a formal initiation Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Luick in Burbank.

New members initiated by President Jack Riley were:

Jack Muzzio, Wally McClyment, Ronnel White, and John Del Secco.

Tri Beta Society Plans Field Trip

John Isaac, newly elected president of Tri Beta, biological honor society, is directing plans for an overnight field trip to be held by the group next fall.

Other officers selected at a recent meeting of the society include Andy Brown, vice-president; Grace Brown, recording secretary;

Shirley Walters, corresponding secretary; and Vic Stombler, historian.

Saturday, Tri Betas held their annual barbecue at Alum Rock park. Val Brazelton supervised the food, and Jim Weybrew was general chairman for the event.

Army Urges Modern Language Study For National Security, Russ in Demand

By HARVEY JORDAN

According to the old adage, "All roads lead to Rome." However, it seems to have been changed a little to read, "All roads lead to the study of Russian."

Little has been heard from the Modern Language department about the Russian language until recently when Gen. Jacob L. Devers, commander of the Army field forces, appealed to students to study foreign languages as a matter of "national security."

Independently, Col. James J. Hea, professor of military science and tactics at SJSC, published a notice urging student officers to study languages, especially Russian. Dr. Cyril Bryner, assistant professor of Russian language and history here, described the study of Russian as being valuable in both peace and war.

Russian, according to Dr. Bryner, is the spoken language of 100 millions, and bids to be the secondary language in eight European countries, as well as in China with a population of 460 millions.

"It is irrelevant," Dr. Bryner said, "whether we regard Russia as a friend or an enemy or with indifference, it is important that we should know a lot more about the second most powerful country in the world."

Internat'l Relations Holds Final Meeting Of Spring Quarter

The International Relations club held its final meeting for the quarter Wednesday at 3:30 in room 107, Bob Martin, IRC vice-president, announced yesterday.

The meeting was the climax to a year during which the club presented speakers with personal knowledge and experience of international problems. The speakers gave the club members and guests a first-hand view of the facts that complicate international affairs and relations. It was the purpose of each speaker to discuss a specific problem or situation about which he was well informed. At the weekly meetings most of the present international problems were discussed by the club members.

"Next year we hope to increase the IRC membership and present more speakers at our weekly meeting," Martin said. The next meeting of the IRC will be early in October.

Cop Rewarded By Spartan Daily

By JOHN CARTWRIGHT

Lloyd Warthan, sophomore Spartan, has gone farther than just proving the Brotherhood of Man. Warthan has displayed the brotherhood between Police majors and Journalism students.

A police student, himself, Warthan noticed that the Journalism department, was bench-less. Through trained powers of observation Warthan saw the look of pained helplessness on the otherwise cynical faces of the newspaper folk. Some one had made off with their bench. Ergo, they had to stand. Ergo II, they were miserable.

Without a thought to himself or the possible recriminations, Warthan seen his dooty and done it. The telephone lines buzzed. Higher ups were contacted. Speaking with a quivering voice of authority, Lloyd Warthan demanded that his neighbors, the Guardians of Our Fundamental Rights of Life, Liberty, Etc., be given a bench. Warthan pulled some . . . strings.

Wednesday evening at 4 o'clock, three benches were placed before B-93. Lloyd Warthan was given a free issue of the Spartan Daily.

Vets Moving Must Notify VA Office

Graduating vets who are moving out of this Veterans Administration area are asked to notify the VA of their new permanent addresses. The VA pointed out that a veteran's NSLI records are kept in the VA district office of the area in which he maintains his permanent address.

When advising the VA of address change, the veteran should identify himself fully, indicating his NSLI certificate number, former address and new address. Changes in address may be noted on the space provided for such cases on the flap of the regular insurance remittance envelopes.

'Russian Tea' Held At Joint Confab

Members of the first and second year Russian language classes met recently at the home of Dr. Cyril Bryner, assistant professor of Russian language and history, for a "Russian tea."

Professor Bryner's collections of Russian books and Russian art were examined by the classes. The meeting was concluded with a discussion on what books were necessary to compose a Russian library.

Quartet To Study With Griller Unit On Scholarships

Scholarships to study this summer at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music with the noted Griller quartet of the University of California have been granted to the San Jose State college instrumental quartet, according to Miss Frances Robinson of the music faculty.

Members of the string quartet are Wallace Johnson, violinist; Warren van Bronkhorst, violinist; Dennis Barrett, violaist; and Allen Gove, cellist. Johnson recently was awarded the Lanini Memorial Award of $100, which is presented annually to the stringed instrument student showing the greatest progress.

Bronkhorst has been selected by the Auditions committee of the faculty to be student soloist with the symphony orchestra in fall quarter in the Sibelius violin concerto. Barrett is a post graduate student and will teach next year in Redwood City. Gove, a graduate of Santa Cruz high school, is a native of San Jose. The quartet was auditioned May 21 and was awarded the scholarship shortly after. Summer Session at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music is scheduled to run from June 20 to July 30.

Country Club Gives $400 to SJ Golfers

By JACK RUSSELL

San Jose State's defending NC-AA golf champions will travel back and forth from the tournament at Ames, Ia., in first class style, thanks to the generous contribution of the members of the San Jose Country club.

The members got together over the weekend and contributed over $400 to purchase airplane tickets for the trip. The ASB council had allotted $1400 for travelling expenses, but this would only take care of train transportation. The extra amount donated by the Country club makes it possible for Coach Duino's charges to attend the meet in a style fitting for national titleholders.

Last year the Country club rewarded the victorious Spartan team by granting each member free greens privileges for the 1949 season. That this practice privilege was put to excellent use is evident from the undefeated record of the State linksmen.

The six members of the traveling squad, Eli Bariteau, Warren MacCarty, Ross Smith, Capt. Howard Verutti, Bill Ogden, and Ruskin Sheppard, plus Coach Eddie Duino, will leave San Francisco at 11:00 p.m., June 22, on the TWA Constellation Flight 10.

Southern Cal Is Top Honor Choice; Three-Way Fight for Second Is Seen

The stage is set for the annual NCAA trackfest, which this year will be held at Los Angeles Friday and Saturday. The University of Southern California has been established by the "typewriter gang" as the favorites. The writers predict a tough battle between Michigan State, Minnesota and Stanford for the second spot.

Signs of the Times

The San Francisco high school athletic commission recently ruled that golf should be taken off the agenda of competitive high school sports. It was discovered belatedly that many of the students weren't playing the game according to Hoyle. Some of the Mission street and "south o' Market" golfers were getting a surprising number of par 72 scores for beginners, until it was learned that "score juggling" was a common practice among the future sportsmen.

San Jose State's four top trackmen, Mel Martin, George Mattos, Bob Crowe and Woody Linn, along with Mentor Bud Winter are in the southern city awaiting today's trials in their respective events. Just before leaving for the meet, Winter said that he had no schedule of the meet and wasn't certain as to which of the locals would be competing today.

There's a strong possibility that only Crowe will have to perform today. He's entered in the century and the furlong and will undoubtedly have to run heats in both to qualify for tomorrow's finals.

The NCAA scene isn't unfamiliar to Coach Winter. He's had several boys entered and has even had a winner or two in past years. Woody Linn placed sixth in 1948, while Thelno Knowles, Gene Haynes and Ray Overhouse—some of last year's Spartan track power—all placed high. Both Knowles and Linn narrowly missed making the U.S. Olympics squad.

Bob Likens, former Spartan javelin great (he holds the college record in this event), brought the national spear championship to Spartanville two years running. Not eligible for the NCAA last season, he qualified in the AAU for the Olympics team and placed eighth in the London games.

Any one of the current entries in the nationals, with their ordinary skill and a bit extra, combined with some luck, could run, jump or throw themselves into a national track or field championship.

UW Draws Heaviest Fine; Idaho Second

PORTLAND, Ore. June 16 (UP) Pacific Coast Conference officials headed homeward today after slapping $21,405 in fines on member schools for illegal recruiting, subsidizing and proselytizing of athletes during the past 12 months.

The assessments were the stiffest in the conference's history. Topping the list was a $5,500 fine levied against the University of Washington. The second largest fine of $4,010 was levied against the University of Idaho, while Washington State drew a fine of $3,720.

Next in order were Stanford, $2,890; University of Southern California, $2,370; University of Oregon, $1,390; UCLA, $555; University of California, $350; Montana State University, $200, and Oregon State college, $120.

Conference Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt announced that schools cited under the recruiting provision were Idaho, Washington, Washington State, Oregon, Oregon State, California, Southern California and Stanford.

Engineering Department Students Grade Teachers

By ARNE SAARI

When a man bites a dog, that's news, and when students of San Jose State college grade their instructors, that's also news!

A series of objective tests in which students had a chance to evaluate instructors was made in the Engineering department recently.

The originator of this idea is, strangely enough, an instructor. Professor J. M. Zimmerman, in his lectures in Job Evaluation 191, had been discussing industrial incentive pay programs. He emphasized the importance of obtaining employee reaction to aspects of management's proposals. Prof. Zimmerman concluded that if evaluation of superiors is good enough to preach, it is also good enough to practice.

Evaluation Form Employed

In a discussion with Dr. Ralph J. Smith, Engineering department head, it was agreed to start a program of student evaluation of instructors. A form was drawn up on which students could indicate reactions to procedures and methods employed by instructors.

Phases covered were: assignments, class discussion, examinations, grading, attitude — in and out of class, and personal characteristics of the instructor.

Students were cautioned not to indicate their identity in any manner. They graded on a point system which ranged from 20 as tops to 0, for, well for 0. For example, students' evaluation of the instructor's methods of grading ranged from 20-16, always fair; 15-11, usually fair; 10-6, frequently fair; and under 6, unfair. Examinations were rated on the basis of carefully prepared, pertinent to discussions, mostly pertinent, some unfair questions, and unfair questions.

Dr. Smith said that none of the instructors objected to throwing himself to the lions, or rather, to the Spartans.

Two major conclusions were reached as a result of the tests. 1. Students took the evaluations seriously and answered in an objective fashion. 2. In the main, the results were quite complimentary to instructors. In all classes, examinations and grading were judged fair by the great majority of students. Instructors were rated very friendly, cooperative and democratic.

Dr. Smith pointed out, "students are not in a position to evaluate the effectiveness of any particular teaching method. Only after several years of experience after he leaves college can the student justly appraise his teachers and their methods. However, we did benefit from the students' reaction to those aspects of the courses which only they can judge and we welcome the many suggestions and comments received."

Prof. Zimmerman, first instructor to be evaluated by his students, is not a college instructor by profession. He taught for one year at Golden Gate college prior to coming to San Jose State college this year. He taught in the industrial field for 15 years, was a designing and plant engineer for 12 years, and served as an attorney for an employers' council in Oakland for five years.

As he puts it, "I have always been on the side of management, but I want my students to study all phases of their work, especially the union's point of view."

Commenting on the value of objective evaluations, Zimmerman said, "In handling people, I have found that where an employee has a beef or gripe, legitimate or not, if some method is provided to let him have his say, he is relieved of pressure and gets back to normal quickly."

Nigerian Appeals to San Jose for Help No Change Today

An urgent appeal for financial assistance to aid him in securing a college education was received by college officials this week from Isaac O. Oluwole, Nigeria, West Africa.

The letter, released by Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman, was addressed as follows: San Joe College, San Jose 14, California.

"Whoever you are, to whom this letter may be directed for perusal, I implore you to have patience with me and read through," the letter began.

Oluwole then traced his educational history, and discussed his unfortunate financial circumstances.

"I am modestly and hopefully appealing to you and through you to any institution or body in which you may have influence, for such help as may enable me to obtain a higher education or training in Education or Engineering. And if San Joe College herself can help, I shall value it as an honor," Oluwole wrote.

He said that while he is particularly interested in getting a degree in Education or Engineering, he realizes it is useless to worry about which to choose so long as nobody is prepared to foot the bill.

"So," writes the West African,

"I have since left the choice to him who chooses to help me with the cost."

He concludes by saying that "if you will give consideration to what I have written, I shall be grateful; and, more than that, if you will consider it worthwhile to give me a place, and I am given, well, I shall not only stand, but shall be indebted to you for life."
